Dr. Jeremy Lyon is in his 28th year as an educator and his 12th year as a superintendent. He became Frisco ISD’s Superintendent of Schools in January, 2013.

Dr. Lyon earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Texas A&M University in 1984. He was later admitted as a Fellow in the Cooperative Superintendency Program at The University of Texas where he received his doctoral degree in Educational Administration in 1999.

A lifelong educator, Lyon began his career as a science teacher and coach in Gilmer, Texas. He taught and coached for seven years before becoming a middle school assistant principal at West Ridge Middle School in Eanes ISD. After five years as an assistant principal, he became principal of the school and served two years in that capacity. It was during this time that he completed his doctoral studies.

After earning his Ph.D. in 1999, he was offered the position of assistant superintendent in Coos Bay, Oregon, where he subsequently became their superintendent. After four years of service in Coos Bay, he took the reins of Oregon’s fourth largest school system - Hillsboro, Oregon. After serving five years as their superintendent and passing the largest school construction bond in the history of the district, he desired to return to Texas to be closer to family. In early 2009, the Lyons returned to central Texas when Lyon became superintendent of Hays Consolidated ISD. In late 2012, he reached the summit of his career when he was selected to lead Frisco ISD.

It was at Texas A&M that Dr. Lyon met his wife, Ellen, of Gladewater, Texas. Dr. Ellen Lyon is currently a teacher at Lone Star High School. They are the proud parents of two sons, Michael and Weston, both graduates of The University of Oregon.

Dr. Lyon received the Nolan Estes Leadership Ascension award in 2009 and was recognized in 2012 by the American School Health Association as the recipient of their annual Superintendent’s School Health Leadership Award. He is passionate about contributing to improving the health and wellness of school children and educators.