

My Hula Hoop Space

Everyone needs to stay in their hula hoop space.

Hula hoop space means you keep your hands to yourself, legs to yourself, tongues in your mouths, and be in control of your body.

You need to stay in your hula hoop space in circle time, in the hallway, in the classroom, and on the playground.

If you leave your hula hoop space, other people might feel sad, mad, or upset.

Even if I think it's funny, I need to stay in my hula hoop space.

I want people to be happy to spend time with me.

I should stay in my hula hoop space.
