

Collin County Offering Free H1N1 Shots, No Residency Requirement

Collin County Adult Clinic continues to provide free H1N1 inoculations to anyone aged six months and up.

There are no residency, income or other limits on who can receive the inoculation. Age requirements will dictate the type of inoculation given - the injected vaccine or the intranasal mist. Children from six months to nine years old must return to receive a second dose within twenty eight days of the first dose.

Collin County Adult Clinic works in conjunction with the Collin County Health Department to make the H1N1 vaccine available to anyone who needs it. This is free of charge.

CCAC is at 2520 Avenue K (at Park) just north of downtown Plano.
