

Dear Frisco Students and Parents,

The Princeton Review is excited to announce a partnership with Frisco Independent School District which will present you with the opportunity to take discounted evening and weekend SAT and PSAT preparation courses in FISD. The courses will run year round, and will be exclusive to Frisco ISD students. The first course we are jointly offering will prepare students for the May 2nd SAT.

This course will include 18 hours of instruction and up to four (SAT) full-length diagnostic tests and all course material. In addition, students will also have five months access to the SAT Online Student Center where they can review lessons, practice extra drills, and view their diagnostic test results. Following each practice test in the course students will receive a printed diagnostic report, complete with question and category breakdown and comments for improving their essay.

The course is limited to 20 students to ensure personal attention. The course is usually $599, but Frisco students will have the convenience of taking the class on campus at a $199 discount – making the total course tuition $400.

To enroll in these courses (110200235 Frisco HS, or 110200241 Liberty HS) please visit us online at www.princetonreview.com or feel free to call our office at the number below to register with a local representative. For those enrollments paid by check, please make payable to The Princeton Review. Course tuition is due on or before the first day of class.

The Princeton Review is excited to present this opportunity to Frisco ISD students. If you have any questions about this course, please call 214-890-0099, or email MikaL@review.com for more details.

Sincerely,

Mika Lanier
Director of Outreach
The Princeton Review of North Texas